

Grammarians

Today, I am your Grammarian.

I will listen for members' use of English- both good and not so good.

The purpose for this is to help members improve their use of English, verbally and written. This will allow them to become a more confident speaker and presenter.

I will write down any interesting or exceptional language, as well as any awkward use or misuse of the language (such as incomplete sentences, sentences that change direction in midstream, incorrect grammar, and more) and who erred. At the end of the meeting I will report on what I heard and what I think would have been the appropriate usage.
